BILLY TAYLOR TRIO

Taylor has consistently selected artists of exceptional stature to accompany him and the combination of piano, bass and drums is one which pleases even the most uninitiated ear. The Trio's comfortable blend of musicianship creates a rapport between its members nearly as infectious as the music itself. In jazz parlance, the Billy Taylor Trio "cooks"; its compelling rhythms move even the impassive. This cohesive and dynamic unit has been entertaining at home and abroad while serving as a super sales instrument for jazz by providing a better understanding of American music.

THE RIVER CITY RHYTHM KINGS

Opening this evening for Dr. Taylor is UNF's dixieland jazz ensemble, The River City Rhythm Kings under the direction of Dr. Bill Prince.

Formed less than one year ago, the ensemble won the recent Southern Comfort National Collegiate Dixieland Jazz Band Competition held in Detroit. From over 50 entrants, the UNF students won the prestigious award and will be appearing on several national television programs as a result.

Members of the group are:

J. B. Scott, cornet
Tom Dietz, clarinet
John Moak, trombone
Randy Benton, tuba
Eric Burcher, drums
Noel Freidline, piano
Lee McDougal, banjo

THE JAZZANIANS

The Jazzanians are all students at the University of Natal in Durban, South Africa, directed by Darius Brubeck (son of Dave Brubeck). Now visiting UNF as part of a national tour, the group plays a brand of jazz that is not heard in the U.S.
